

IRISH SCORE BRYCE

Denounce the Ambassador at Emmet Memorial Meeting.

ADOPT WARNING RESOLUTION

Speakers Describe Diplomat as Traitor of Their Race Who Seeks to Effect Anglo-American Alliance. Tributes Paid to Character and Career of Martyred Patriots.

James Bryce, the new British Minister to the United States, and the government he represents were severely scored in speech and resolution last night at the mass meeting in Columbia Theater in honor of the 129th birthday of Robert Emmet, Ireland's martyred hero.

The following is one of the five resolutions declaring for an Irish republic and the inherent right of self-government, which was passed by unanimous vote: "We were the American people that James Bryce is coming to America for the special purpose of effecting an alliance with England that has for its immediate object war with Germany and the retention of England's robber grip on Ireland, India, and South Africa. We proclaim anew our devotion to the policy of 'no entangling alliances with European powers' which George Washington left as a sacred heritage to the American people, and which has been vindicated by more than a century of unparalleled success. We solemnly affirm that the opposition of Irish citizens to an alliance with England is based solely on their loyalty to that policy, their judgment as to the interests and honor of the United States, and their better knowledge of England's sinister motives and designs. We repudiate and deny the statement recently made that the concession of home rule to Ireland, or any other consideration of European politics, would in any sense or degree affect the attitude of Irish citizens to this question."

John T. Keating Speaks.

John T. Keating, ex-national president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, and present president of the school board of Chicago, and the principal speaker of the evening, delivered a brilliant address, in which he paid beautiful tribute to Emmet, reviewing the history of Ireland for the past 100 years, and re-echoing the warning against James Bryce and his government. Mr. Keating told Emmet's career in most dramatic manner, twice bringing the tears to the eyes of his auditors, once when he related his capture as a result of having lingered to see the girl of his heart, and again when he told of the hero's display by Emmet at his dramatic execution.

Call Bryce a Traitor.

Mr. Bryce, on the strength of one of his writings, was characterized as a traitor of the Irish character and a traitor of the Irish cause, and one who was sent to this country for that purpose. His country was referred to as always having a finger in the European political pie and represented at every meeting in Robbers' Roost.

P. T. Moran, International President of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, delivered the opening address, paying high tribute to the memory of Emmet. On the stage behind him were many distinguished men in international as well as national and local affairs, all of whom acted as honorary vice presidents.

James Brady of New York; Tom McNulty, of Baltimore; Miss Elizabeth A. Higgins, and the Ladies' Irish Choir, of Washington, rendered an appropriate musical programme that brought forth round after round of applause and necessitated several encores.

The meeting was under the auspices of the United Irish Societies, and was for the benefit of the Sisters of Mercy of St. Catherine's Home, Thousands of dollars was realized, as the house was packed.

PORT ARTHUR BOMBARDED.

China Broken in Restaurant by One of Uncle Sam's Men.

Port Arthur, a Chinese chop suey shop on Ninth street, was bombed early this morning by a man in blue from the navy yard. China was up in the air, lying broken on the floor, and in fact, everywhere, when the police arrived. The proprietor and assistants remained only a few seconds, and when the bombardment was at its height sought safety in the rear. Customers were hidden behind screens and tables, and the lone employee of Uncle Sam's navy yard held the fort. When the police arrived China was still flying.

At the police station the man gave his name as William Ferguson, 29 E. C. street, and said he was employed as a machinist. He was charged with assault and destroying private property.

LONDON SOCIALISTS ANGRY.

Defeated Faction Takes Election Result with Bad Grace.

London, March 3.—"Saved London from bankruptcy" are the concluding words of the Daily Mail's editorial on the London county council elections yesterday. If that has been done, then the women of London may claim full share in the work.

Reports from many polling places show that the women on the register voted in much larger numbers than ever before and that a great majority of them voted the municipal reform ticket.

The Progressives have taken their defeat in anything but a philosophical and submissive spirit. Their angry expostulations that their political destruction was due to "money and mendacity" arouse only public resentment.

HOME LIFE DISCUSSED.

Meeting Held Yesterday in Its Interest.

Yesterday afternoon a highly interesting meeting was held in Hamilton M. E. Church, under the auspices of the American Society of Religious Education, the object being to increase the interest in the home as an institution in the formation of character.

Judge George W. Atkinson, of the Court of Chancery, presided with much grace and dignity. The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. F. Locke, pastor of Mount Vernon M. E. Church, who offered the prayer, and by Rev. Carl G. Doney, D. D. of Hamilton Church, who read the Scripture.

Judge Atkinson made the initial address, in which he referred to the good work of the society and to the purposes and plans of the Home Culture Union, one of its departments, that had planned the present meeting. He described the Christian home as the source of those influences that go to make good society. He outlined the duties of the future who are to handle the affairs of the state are in training to-day by good fathers and mothers.

Dr. J. E. Gilbert, secretary of the society, spoke on "The Home." He claimed that a man is obligated to do more for his home than for any other institution or interest. He should bring into it his strength, his intelligence, his virtue, the products of his industry, and his religion. He should become an ideal or pattern man, no suspicion ever resting upon him, so that wife and children might look to him with pride and admiration. He should be a guide, a comforter, by his character and wisdom giving unity, coherence, and stability to the home. The man should find retirement and refreshment in his home, and go thence to bless the world.

Mrs. G. T. Smallwood, principal of Washington Seminary, delivered an address of singular beauty, full of wise suggestion. "Woman in the Home," she delineated the womanly character in admirable language, and then showed how such character may serve the home. This ideal woman, she claimed, should be a companion, a guide, a comforter, a teacher. Under the last head she outlined the course of lessons which a woman may give as no other can give them, on honesty, truthfulness, chastity, industry, sacrifice, claiming that these lessons need to be learned in the home.

The large audience manifested its interest throughout the meeting by the closest attention, and at the end many lingered to converse with the speakers. It was announced that other sessions of the union will be held.

John T. Keating Speaks.

Early Morning Fire Causes Loss of $21,000.

Inflammable Material Stored in the Building Makes It Impossible to Check Blaze.

Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the works of the Harvard Laundry Company, 731 Ninth street northwest, shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday morning, resulting in a loss of about $21,000.

The flames were first discovered by Richard Anderson, a switchman employed at Ninth and G streets. By the time the engines had arrived at the scene the flames had made such headway that a second alarm was sent in.

Tons of inflammable material which was stored in the building gave great headway to the flames, which spread rapidly, and for a time threatened the adjoining property. The flames were finally gotten under control, but not until the whole structure was completely wrecked.

T. H. Marshall, the manager of the laundry company, stated that the loss to the stock and machinery of the building would amount to about $15,000, of which $2,500 was covered by insurance. The building was owned by Henry M. Baker, of Bow, N. H., who is represented in this city by W. K. Ellis, of 535 Eleventh street northwest.

The store of Charles J. Bogan, a dealer in wallpaper, adjoining on the north side, was damaged to the amount of about $100.

FUNERAL OF H. B. McDONALD.

Parliamentarian of the Senate Will Be Buried To-day.

The body of H. Bowyer McDonald, for many years chief clerk and parliamentarian of the United States Senate, who died at his apartment in the Bachelor, on Saturday, will be buried from St. John's Episcopal Church to-day at 2 o'clock.

The services will be private, and only the relatives and intimate friends of the deceased will be asked to attend. Mrs. Sinclair, a sister, came from New York yesterday for the funeral, and two brothers, N. J. McDonald and Donald McDonald, made arrangements for the funeral. Rev. Roland Smith, pastor of St. John's Church, will conduct the services and preach a brief sermon. The body will be interred in Congressional Cemetery.

A great number of messages of condolence have come to the bereaved relatives from old friends of Mr. McDonald, who knew him during his career at the Capitol. The pallbearers had not been announced last evening, but they have been arranged for by Maj. McCawley, who expects answers to his telegrams early this morning.

Mrs. George Sweet.

The body of Mrs. George Sweet, wife of the late Parker H. Sweet, and sister of Edward W. Griffin, assessor of the District, will be brought to this city this morning, and funeral service will be conducted at 11 o'clock by Rev. C. O. Crosse, of the Congress Street Church. Mrs. Sweet died on Thursday night in Westminster, Md. Interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

William H. Garvey.

William H. Garvey, formerly of Washington, died in Buffalo last Thursday. He is survived by his mother, Catherine Garvey, his wife and three children. He was born in Washington and worked in the city post-office until 1905, when he was transferred to Buffalo, where he was employed at the time of his death.

George N. Drescher.

Funeral services over the body of George N. Drescher, who was crushed to death beneath a pile of lumber at the navy yard, on Saturday, will be held on Tuesday, at St. Stephen's Church. The deceased was a member of Richard J. Harden Camp, No. 2, United Spanish War Veterans, and Capt. Cogan, commanding the camp, has issued orders making a detail to attend the funeral and act as pallbearers.

Girl Elevator Operator Killed.

Special to The Washington Herald. Philadelphia, March 3.—Under the eyes of two or three girl friends, who stood horrified, unable to aid her, Miss Martha Peterman, elevator operator at the Young Woman's Christian Association, Eighteenth and Arch streets, was crushed to death this morning by her own car. Miss Peterman was twenty-six years old, a blonde, and beautiful. She was to have been married in a few days, and had taken the work of running the elevator to earn the money for her trousseau.

MILLIONAIRE TALKS

J. G. Phelps Stokes and Wife Lecture on Socialism.

EXPLAINS MEANING OF TERM

Declares Subject Is One Which Has Been Misunderstood and Talked About by People Who Know Nothing of It—Rose Pastor Stokes Speaks Seriously on Problems.

Socialism in various forms was illustrated by a New York millionaire, J. G. Phelps Stokes, and his wife, Rose Pastor Stokes, in Masonic Temple last evening before an audience that more than filled the large hall. Mr. Stokes himself is president of half a dozen corporations, and spoke at some length of monopolies, bringing out the idea that few stockholders of the larger companies had anything to do with actual operations of the concerns. The two took the lecture platform some time ago in the interests of socialism. They leave to-day for Florida, where several weeks will be spent in recreation.

Mrs. Stokes, who was formerly a stripper in a cigar factory, and who met the millionaire while both were devoting their spare time to working in the interest of the New York settlements, followed her husband on the platform last night. She is an earnest talker, and made her points clear. The audience was composed of more women than men, and when Mrs. Stokes was announced she was heartily received. Many late arrivals were unable to gain admittance to the hall.

Stokes Is Plain Spoken.

Mr. Stokes can best be described by calling him a plain man. He is plain in style of dress, and equally as plain and sincere in his speech. He is tall, rather good looking and hardly seems his thirty years. When he talks, the millionaire has a habit of stepping back and forth upon the stage. He speaks offhand, with some hesitation at times, but as one who thoroughly understands his subject. In his speech, Mr. Stokes is serious. Not once last night did he so much as smile during his address. Nor did he tell any stories, or in any way attempt to amuse his hearers. He talked business, from beginning to end.

In beginning, he said socialism is often greatly misrepresented. His subject was "The Reasonableness of Socialism."

"Many people," he said, "who know nothing about socialism and its purposes are always talking about it without knowing just what they say."

"Socialism," he said, "is a great deal everywhere, seeks the abolition of capital, and the belief that the world should be run on the basis of common ownership of property."

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

Should Control Their Output.

"One of the fundamental principles of socialism is the product of human labor, and the belief that the world should be run on the basis of common ownership of property."

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said that the world is run on the basis of the control of the capital that socialism favors. Socialism is very often said to desire the abolition of property rights. Neither is this statement true. Private ownership and wealth which others have created is one of the things to which objection is made by the socialists. Socialism recognizes the brain worker as well as the manual laborer.

He said